

STILL PROCESSING

Runtime: 17 minutes

Aspect Ratio: 1.78:1

Subtitles: English

Colour + B&W

Synopsis

A box of stunning family photos unseen for decades awakens lost memories as they are viewed for the first time on camera.

Crew

Director: Sophy Romvari

Cinematographer + Colourist: Devan Scott

Sound Design: Will Ross

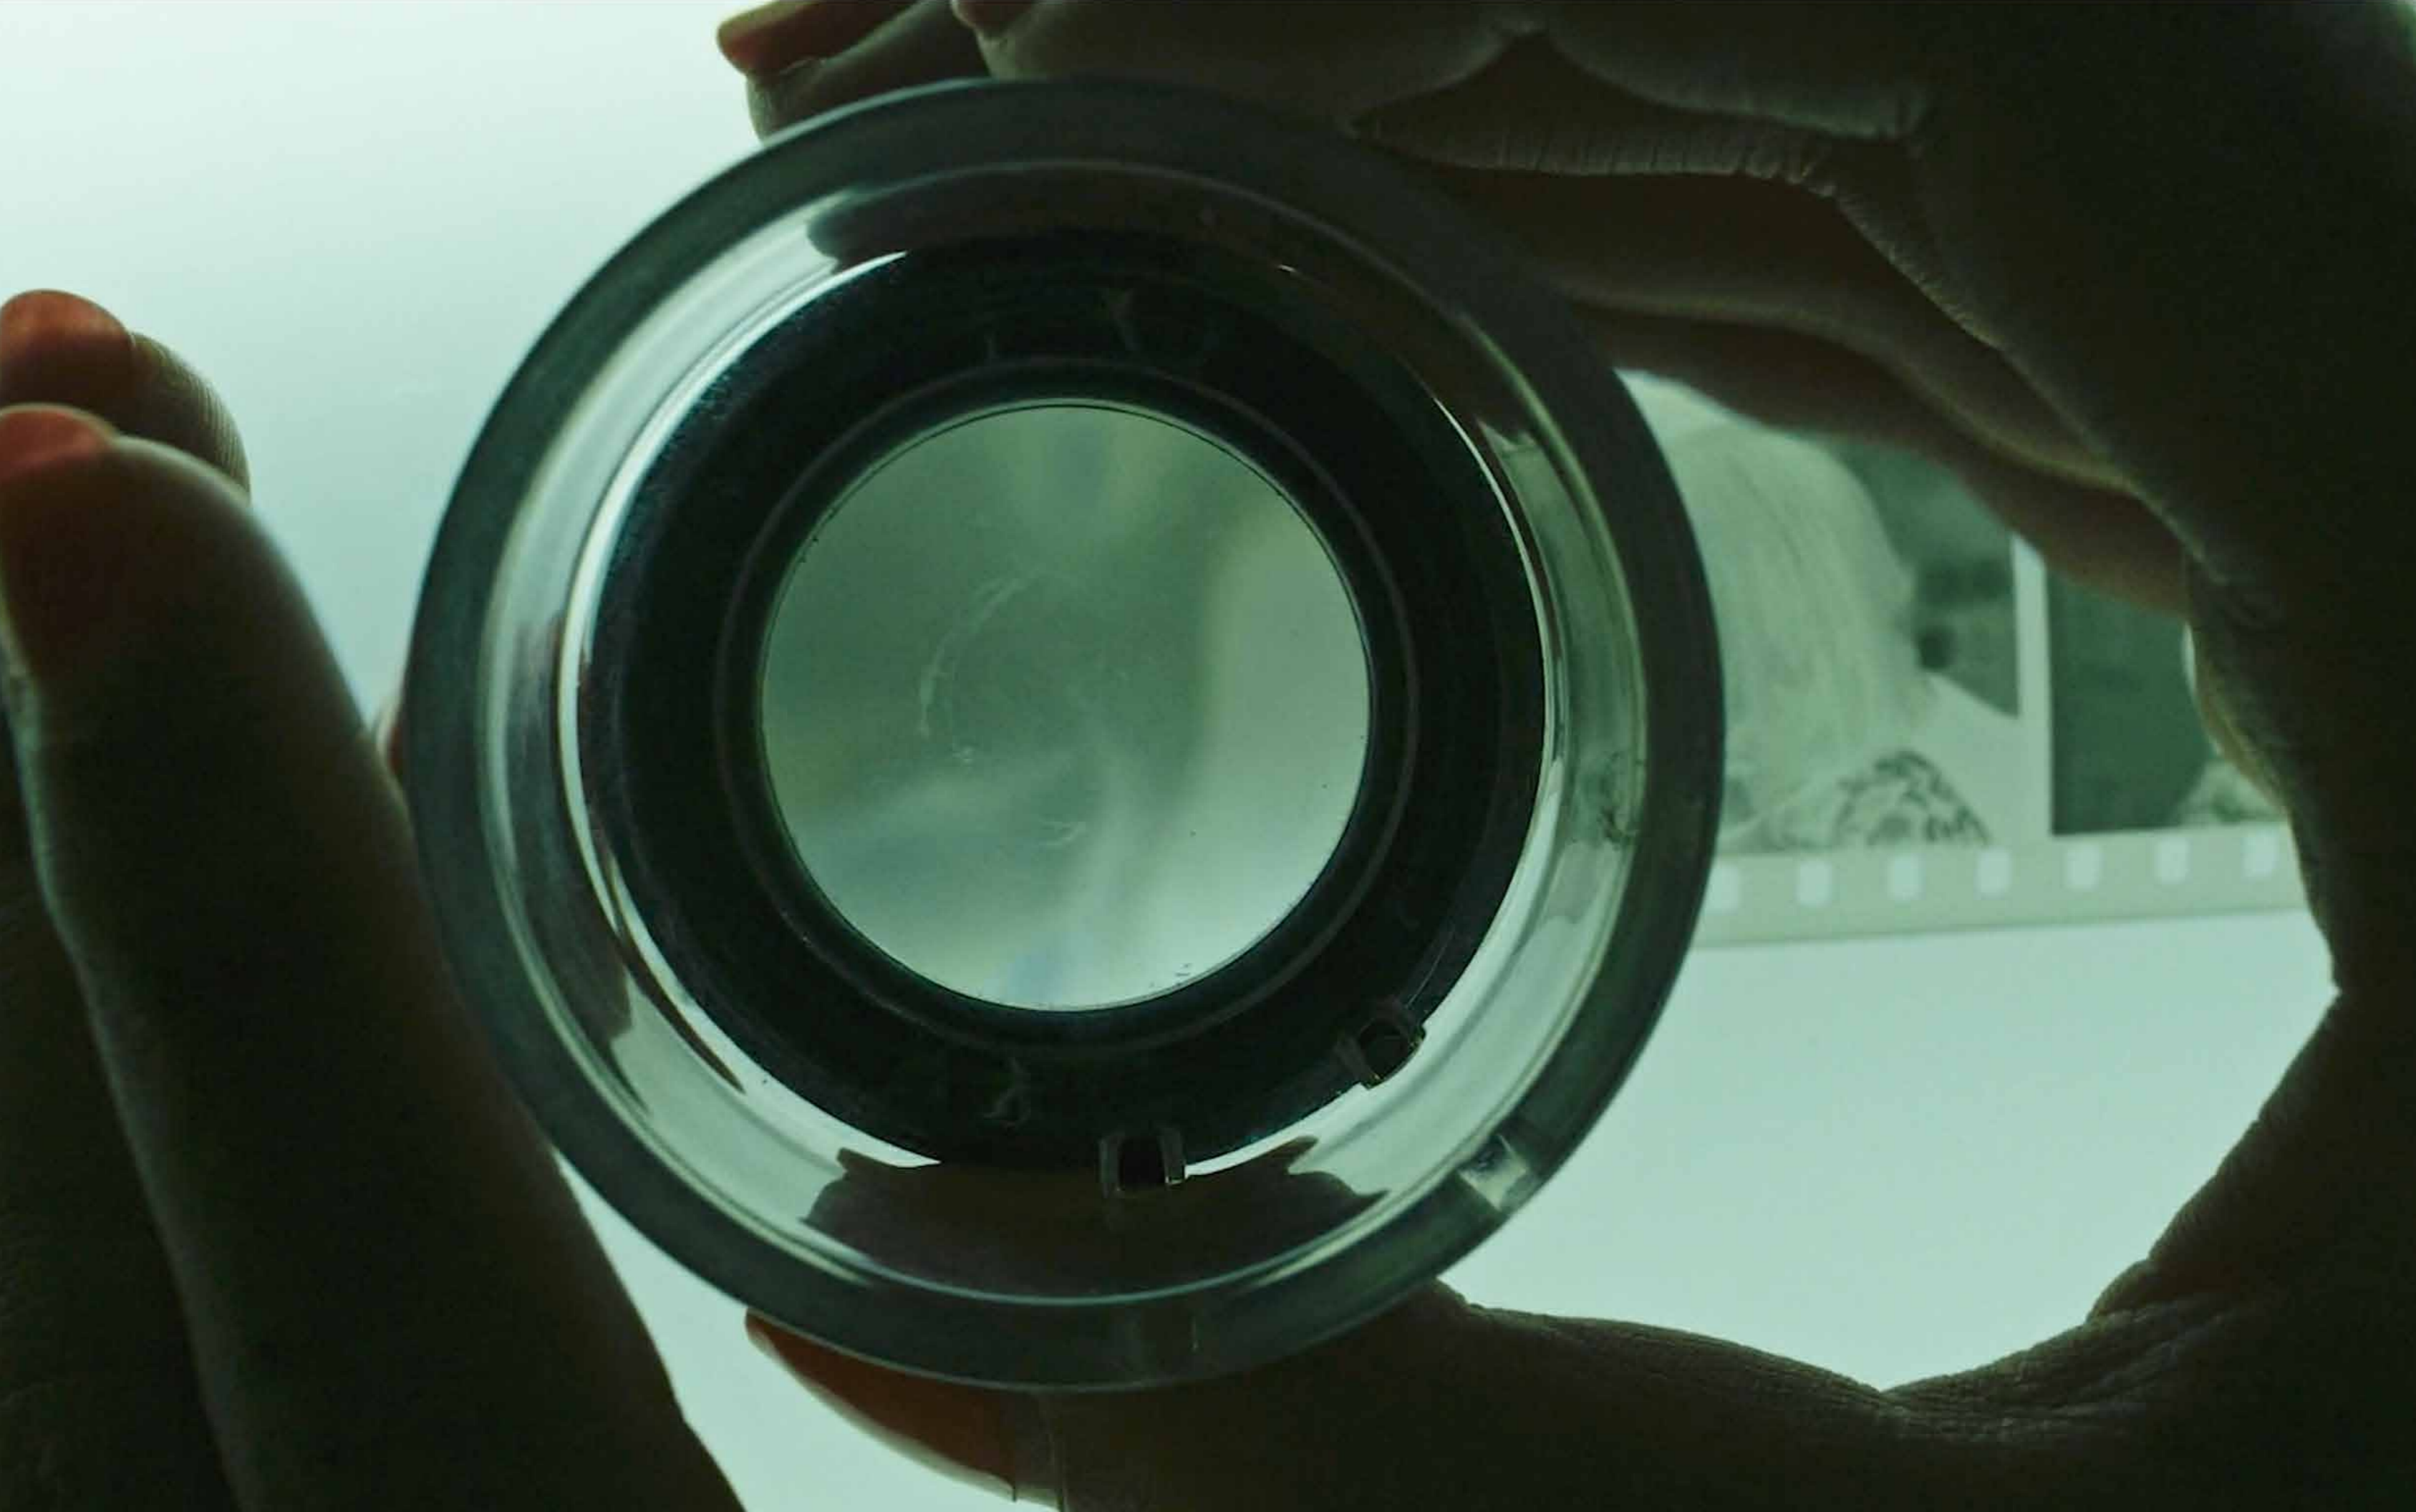

Editors: Sophy Romvari + Will Ross + Kalil Haddad

Key Cast: Sophy Romvari + Ben Romvari

Official Selection

tiff

Toronto International
Film Festival 2020

Contact: sophyromvari@gmail.com

Website: Sophy.me

Director's Biography

Sophy Romvari is a filmmaker born in Victoria, B.C. and based in Toronto. Her critically acclaimed short films have travelled the international festival circuit and have earned her a reputation as a leading young talent.

Her 2017 hybrid documentary Pumpkin Movie premiered at True/False to considerable praise, as well as at Hot Docs and Sheffield Doc Fest.

Critics called it "a lovely, subtle work of feminist protest."

In 2018 her short Norman Norman received its world premiere at TIFF.

It was also the centerpiece of "Super Succinct and Radically Direct," a retrospective of Sophy's work at the Museum of the Moving Image in NYC.

She has directed documentary films for such acclaimed outlets as CBC Short Docs (In Dog Years, 2019) and Kino Lorber (Remembrance of József Romvári, 2020).

Official Selection

tiff

Toronto International
Film Festival 2020

